

WILSON AND BRYAN SPLIT OVER LEAGUE

PRESIDENT FAVORS MAKING PACT A CAMPAIGN ISSUE --RATIFY NOW, SAYS BRYAN

DEMOCRATS STILL IN THE DARK ON THIRD TERM

Jackson Day Dinner, Climax to Day of Many Exciting Developments—Speeches Made by Many Prospective Presidential Candidates, if Wilson Decides Not to Seek Third Term.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A split between President Wilson and William Jennings Bryan over whether the league of nations should be made an election issue, topped off the Jackson Day deliberations of the Democratic party chiefs.

It came at the Jackson Day dinner, as the climax of a day in which San Francisco had been chosen as the meeting place of the Democratic national convention on June 1, and it charged the air with political electricity.

President Wilson, in his message read to the diners, assembled in two separate halls declared the "clear and single way out" was to submit the question to the voters.

Mr. Bryan declared that the Democratic party could not go before the country on the issue, because it involved a delay of fourteen months, and meant success only if the Democrats captured a two-thirds majority of the senate. The party, Mr. Bryan declared, must "secure such compromises as may be possible."

The disagreement, the first in public view since Mr. Bryan left the cabinet because he did not agree with the president's course in the diplomatic negotiations with Germany was thus disclosed as a fact.

Crystallized An Issue. In the opinion of the political leaders it crystallized an issue. Mr. Bryan said that he had, nothing to ask, but spoke from attitude rather than in expectation.

"You will therefore," he added, "not listen to me with the thought that you are listening to a candidate."

Mr. Bryan then read his prepared address. As he proceeded, however, Mr. Bryan interspersed numerous extemporaneous arguments.

"When we remember the anathemas with which we have denounced the Republicans for seven months delay," he said referring to the treaty, "what will be our answer to Europe now if we delay for another fourteen months while we consult American people."

"If I know the American people," he continued, "they will never transfer to any foreign nation the right to say when our boys shall be conscripted."

When Mr. Bryan endorsed nationwide prohibition there was scattering applause and some laughter.

"My friends," he said, "I was prepared for silence. If this does not appeal to the diners present, I appeal from Philip Drunk to Philip Sober and lay the cause before the people who do believe in prohibition."

President Wilson, said nothing about a third term for himself and neither did he make any formal announcement of his intended retirement to private life.

There were a dozen or more other speakers and their views on whether the league should be made a campaign issue were either divided in favor of the president or Mr. Bryan or else they did not touch on the subject at all.

The gist of their speeches might be easily epitomized in this fashion:

Senator Pomeroy: Ratify the treaty with or without reservations.

Former Secretary McAdoo: An argument of Republican adaptation.

Secretary Daniels: Mr. Bryan is led to credit for the league of nations treaty because his peace agitation conventions were ground work for it.

Senator Hitchcock: Honorable compromise on the league question or a finish fight.

Senator Owen: Immediate ratification, and proceed with reconstruction legislation.

Chairman Cummings: "Inevitable impulses" are carrying the Democratic party, "each day nearer and nearer to victory."

Governor Corawell of West Virginia: American institutions in danger of being overthrown by the unchecked growth of labor.

Chairman Kremer: We ac-

Bryan's Speech Scoring Wilson

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—W. J. Bryan split openly with President Wilson at the Jackson Day dinner tonight on whether the Democratic party should make the league of nations an election issue. The former secretary of state, three times a candidate for the presidency and a power in his party, declared the Democrats could not go before the country on the issue and that they must accept compromises as possible.

President Wilson in his message, had declared "the clear and single way out" was to submit the question to the voters.

Conceding the right of the Republican majority to dictate the senate's course, Mr. Bryan declared:

Must Face Situation.

"Our plan has been rejected and we must face the situation. We must either secure such compromises as may be possible or present the issue to the country. The latter course would mean a delay of at least fourteen months and then success only in case of our securing a two-thirds majority of the senate."

"We cannot afford to share with the Republican party responsibility for further delay; we cannot go before the country on the issue that such an appeal would present."

A majority of congress can declare war. Shall we make it more difficult to conclude a treaty than to enter a war?"

Mr. Bryan said he ventured to suggest "three new propositions."

They were:

A national system of roads, extending in every state to be known as "a national peace way."

A national bulletin—not a newspaper, Mr. Bryan declared—to present national issues under bi-partisan control.

The initiative and referendum, which he declared the Democratic party might well adopt as its "next great reform."

Bryan's Speech. Mr. Bryan said in part:

"The nations are entering upon a new era; old systems are passing away; democracy is dawning everywhere. Our nation is the only great nation in a position to furnish the moral leadership required."

WILSON'S MESSAGE TO JACKSON DAY DINERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—President Wilson in his message to the Jackson Day diners tonight said "the clear and single way" to determine the will of the people on the league of nations was to make it an election issue.

The message said nothing about a third term and neither did it say he would not be a candidate, as had been forecast. Most all of the message was devoted to an expression of his argument of why he considered it the duty of the United States to join in the league of nations covenant and why he considered the war not really won until it did. Another attempt to crush the new nations of Europe would be made, the president said, if the United States held aloof.

The president again expressed his attitude toward reservations, much as he did at his conference with the senate foreign relations committee.

The Message. The message said in part:

"The United States enjoyed the spiritual leadership of the world until the senate failed to ratify the treaty by which beligerent nations sought to effect settlements for which they had fought. It is inconceivable that at this final turning point in the international relations of the whole world, when the results of the great war are by no means determined the United States should withdraw from the concert of progressive and enlightened nations by which Germany was defeated and all similar governments (if the world be so unhappy as to contain any) warned of the certain consequences of any attempt of a like iniquity and yet that is the effect of the course the senate has taken with regard to the treaty of Versailles. Germany is beaten, but we are still at war with her and the old stage is reset for a repetition of the old plot. It is now ready for the resumption of the old offensive and defensive alliances. It is now open again to every sort of intrigue. The old spirit of liberty to make it impossible for governments to be sure what mischief is being worked among their own people. Without the covenant of the league of nations there may be as many secret treaties as ever. None of the objects we professed to be fighting for has been secured or can be made certain of without this nation's ratification of the treaty and its entry into the covenant. This nation went into the war to see if thru and the end has not yet come. Five leading belligerents have accepted the treaty."

Treaty Depends on U. S. "The question is whether this country will enter wholeheartedly. If it does not the United States and Germany will play a lone hand. The mace of peace and the effective execution of the treaty depend upon the wholehearted participation of the United States. The United States is the only nation which has sufficient moral force to guarantee the substitution of discussion for war. If we keep out of this agreement then another attempt will be made to crush the new nations."

"I do not believe that this is what the people of this country wish. Personally I do not accept the action of the senate of the United States as the decision of the nation. I have endeavored to make it plain that if the senate wishes to say what the undoubted meaning of the league is, I shall have no objection. There can be no reasonable objection to interpretations. But when the treaty is acted upon, I must know whether it means that we have ratified or rejected it. We cannot rewrite this treaty. We must take it without changes which alter its meaning, or leave it and then, after the world has signed it, we must face the unthinkable task of making a separate treaty with Germany. If there is any doubt as to what the people think the one way is to submit it for determination at the next election to give the next election the form of a great and solemn referendum, a referendum as to the part the United States is to play. We have no more moral right to refuse now to take part in the execution and administration of these settlements than we had to refuse to take part in the fighting of the last few weeks of the war. Our fidelity to our associates is in question and the whole future of mankind it will be heartening to the whole world to know the purpose of the United States."

For Spiritual Leadership. "I spoke of the spiritual leadership of the United States, thinking of international affairs. But there is another spiritual leadership we can assume. The world has been made safe for democracy, but democracy has not been finally vindicated. All sorts of crimes are being committed in its name. This, in my judgment, is to be the great privilege of the democracy of the United States, to show that it can lead the way to a happy settled order of life as well as to political liberty. The program for this achievement we must attempt to formulate and in carrying it out we shall do more than can be done in any other way to sweep out of existence the tyrannous and arbitrary forms of power now masquerading under the name of popular government."

Flames Which Started at 10:15 O'clock Thursday Night Caused Estimated Loss of $20,000—Splendid Work of Fire Department Saves Business Section.

Mason City, Jan. 8.—Fire which started in the Garden Cream station at 10:15 o'clock tonight destroyed the creamery, the Banner Times office and badly damaged the Voight harness shop. The loss is estimated at $20,000. Only strenuous work by the fire department prevented the destruction of the entire business section.

The fire was discovered by A. L. Charles, who was attending a meeting in the opera house. Mr. Charles went down to crank his automobile to warm the engine and saw the flames in the cream station. He immediately turned in the alarm.

The cream station and the Banner Times buildings were frame structures covered with metal. Owing to the high wind they were an easy prey to the flames.

The city has an excellent water system and a good fire department. The department did fine work and had able assistance from citizens. By hard work the fire was gotten under control in the Voight harness shop which is a brick structure.

The Gardner cream station is one of the largest along the Alton road and handles the product from a wide territory. It was well equipped and will be a total loss.

The loss of the Banner Times printing office also is total. One of the biggest items in the loss is a new linotype machine which was installed last summer. The loss of the Voight harness shop is only partial and will be largely by water as well as fire.

It was not possible to learn the amount of insurance carried by the firms. However, it is thought that the loss is only partially covered.

The famous Spad, in which Captain "Eddie" Rickenbacker brought down 26 German opponents was one of the centers of attraction. Airplanes designed for Polar flying with sled runners designed as landing gear were among the exhibits.

The general staff system, he declared dominated the entire army and kept commanding officers from corps commanders down in perpetual fear of disgrace.

WILSON'S STAND ON PACT BLOCKS ALL HOPE FOR RATIFICATION---LODGE

Republican Leader in Statement Declares Agreement on Principles Set Forth in Fourteen Reservations Impossible.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, Republican leader, declared in a statement tonight he feared President Wilson's Jackson Day message had made impossible the hope "that in the senate we might have come together and ratified the treaty protected by the principles set forth in the fourteen reservations."

"The president has made his position very plain," said the senator. "He rejects the reservations adopted by a decisive majority of the senate. He says we must take the treaty without any change which alters its meaning, or leave it. He will permit interpretations, whatever that may mean, expressing its undoubted meaning when there is hardly a line of it which has not been questioned and given many meanings. This permission is valueless. He stands as he has always stood, for the treaty just as it is."

"The issue is clearly drawn. The reservations intended solely to protect the United States in sovereignty and independence are discarded by the president. The president places himself squarely in behalf of internationalism against Americanism."

"I had hoped that we might have come together and ratified the treaty, protected by the principles set forth in the fourteen reservations."

"The president I fear has not this hope. If it is impossible, then we must bear the delay inseparable from the president's attitude and appeal to the people which I, for one, shall most cordially welcome."

STRIKE OF STEEL WORKERS ENDED

National Committee Votes to Call Off Walkout Which Involves 307,000 Men at Start.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—The strike in the steel mills and furnaces called Sept. 22, and which at its inception involved 307,000 men was officially called off here tonight by the national committee, after an all day meeting.

Announcement that the national committee had decided to proceed no further was made in a telegram sent to the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor in Washington, to heads of all international unions interested and to the organizers and field men in all strike districts.

"The steel corporation," the telegram said, "with the active assistance of the press, the courts, the federal troops, state police and many public officials, have denied steel workers their rights of free speech, free assemblage and the right to organize, and by this arbitrary and ruthless misuse of power have brought about a condition which has compelled the national committee to vote today that the active strike phase of the steel campaign is now at an end. A vigorous campaign of education and reorganization will be begun and will not cease until industrial justice in the steel industry has been achieved. All steel workers now are at liberty to return to work pending preparation for the next big organization movement."

The telegram was signed by John Fitzpatrick, chairman; D. J. Davis, vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers; Edward J. Evans, International Union of Electrical Workers; William Hannon, International Union of Machinery and Allied Trades; and William J. Foster, secretary of the committee.

Mr. Fitzpatrick declined comment, but Secretary Foster said:

"The strike has proved that the men in the steel industry can be organized."

The officers of the committee here will be maintained for about a month while business is being wound up, and the commissary department here will continue to look after needy former strikers and their families until the men have obtained employment. When this is done Mr. Foster said, offices will be opened in the city.

Plans for this work, Mr. Foster added have already been formed and include meetings in steel towns and publication of a bulletin with a circulation of 150,000 weekly.

Many people have talked "revolution" in the affairs of this country and there is almost a certainty it will occur—on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

A majority of the mine workers repudiated by a decisive vote the action of radicals in their ranks. Radicals are in a decided minority and are a noisy bunch—they are the ones most heard of until a question is put to a test vote.

THE ASTOR ESTATE.

After dividing the magnificent sum of $50,000 among ten of the faithful employees of his office who had been doing the work of looking after his property, Viscount William Waldorf Astor left the remainder of his entire estate of $100,000,000 in this country to his son, John Jacob Astor, who bears the name of the founder of the Astor family and fortune, his great grandfather. Tho born in Germany, the original Astor was a true American. But this recent Astor, not only ignored his American origin but all claims of charitable or public interests.

EUROPE AND OURSELVES.

"Let Europe go hang; we've got to look out for ourselves," says the man in the street. "Sure," we've got to look out for ourselves but letting Europe "go hang" is not doing that. On the contrary, it is bringing certain disaster upon ourselves. Our prosperity is strongly and inevitably influenced by Europe, our greatest customer—Europe, who buys far more from us at all times than the rest of the world combined. There are many people, who think we can dismiss Europe from our reckoning, assuming fatuously that we are so great a nation that we can get along pleasantly and profitably without her trade. The United States was so long relatively independent, its resources and productivity so great in proportion to its population, that the average American, has looked upon foreign commerce as a mere incident of trade, important only to those engaged in it; yet there never has been a time when our trade with Europe was not a potent influence in our prosperity, and since we reached the stage when production began largely to exceed home consumption that trade has been an essential factor in our material welfare. As our production increases—and increase it must if prosperity is to be maintained—the necessity for foreign markets for our staples becomes more and more urgent. On the other hand, if our foreign markets were now to be shut off, great financial disaster would immediately follow, affecting in one way or another every inhabitant of the land. No greater calamity could befall us than to be limited to our home market, says the Globe-Democrat.

Of course we cannot be so limited, but we can be materially restricted by existing circumstances, and we shall lose a very large part of our European trade, which would be relatively disastrous, unless we can aid the restoration of Europe to normal purchasing capacity. Before the war from 60 to 75 per cent of our total exports went to Europe. The United Kingdom (England, Scotland and Ireland) was our best customers in all the world, and still is, taking 1913 approximately 25 per cent of our total exports, and in 1918 35 per cent. Germany, before the war, was our second best customer, taking in 1913 over 13 per cent of our total exports, France came third, as to Europe, and fourth as to the world, being greatly exceeded by Canada, which very nearly equalled Germany's trade, but the purchases of France were much less than one-half of Germany's. With the advent of the war Germany and her associates ceased perforce to be customers of ours, but the allied nations were compelled to depend very largely upon us for supplies. The result has been such a volume of exportation as no nation in the world's history has ever enjoyed. Due to the war our exports increased from $2,428,506,358 in the fiscal year 1913 to $5,838,652,057 in 1918, and to $7,979,366,468 in the calendar year 1919. In the six years from 1914 to 1919 inclusive we have sold abroad goods to the value of over thirty-one billion of dollars, and approximately 65 per cent of that over twenty billions worth, was sold to Europe. This stupendous trade, growing out of the calamities that Europe was suffering, has enriched the United States far beyond its condition before the war, and it is today immeasurably richer than any country on earth.

When all the nations, mad and snappy, were plying swords and scything guns, we thought: we would be blithe and happy, if ever that fierce war were done. We'd all get busy at our knitting, with quiet minds and hearts serene, and when arrived the time for knitting, we'd burn a little gasoline. To old time ways in peace returning, we'd soon forget the fields of gore, and by the lamp at evening burning, we'd delve again in helpful lore. So far our hopes have all been broken, and ire has reigned where love should dwell; the words of hatred still are spoken, and still the crazed disturbers yell. But now, methinks the clouds are breaking, this new year bids us hope again; and pretty soon war's all we'll find to peace on earth, good will to men. We've had enough of wild emotions, that shook and jarred us to the soul, of eloquence is frothing oceans, that bore us to no useful boal. So let us one and all determine to be as happy as we can, avoid vain strife, forget the German, and each one help the other man.

BREWING COMPANY DISPOSES OF PROPERTY

Sell Building on Northwest Corner of Square to Mrs. Lula A. Wall—Purchase Price $15,000.—Mr. Wall Is Now Occupying Building With Billiard Hall.

One of the most important real estate deals in city property in recent months is the transfer by the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company of the business building at the northwest corner of the square to Mrs. Lula A. Wall.

The building in question is a three story structure and extends from the public square to Broadway alley. It was formerly occupied by Benson Brothers and was used by them as the agency for the brewery for a number of years. It is a most desirable piece of property.

At the present time Mr. Wall is occupying the lower floor with a billiard room and cigar store. Mr. Wall said last night that he expected to make a number of changes in the building in the spring. Among them will be the building of inside stairways to the second and third floors. The Loyal Order of Moose are negotiating for a lease on the third floor for a meeting place and club rooms.

Those Who Do Heavy Work out in the fields, in the streets, on the roads, in factory, shop or store, will find Chiropractic especially beneficial in relieving the ill-effects of strain and over-exertion. This exertion throws the movable parts of the spine slightly out of position so they press on the nerves and shut off the life-giving currents that these nerves supply to certain parts of the body.

Weakness and severe illness in some organ of the body often follows; but generally these spinal defects sooner or later weaken the whole system and the worker becomes tired, depressed, out-of-sorts, and subject to all manner of illness.

It is therefore important that all who do heavy work investigate Chiropractic and learn how it eliminates the ill effects of spinal defects by spine adjustments which remove the pressure from the nerves. Nature then can restore normal conditions and build up and strengthen the weakened and diseased organs.

raw spot in our body politic at this hour. Too much evidence as to America's part in the war has been submitted. Mr. Palmer said, for the case to be withdrawn from the jury now.

"The great war is a living fact," he said. "The hope of the world for peace has been blasted by the jealousies of men who hold their political fortunes above the world's need. The war will not be over until the issues are passed upon by the great court of appeals in America and the judgment of the people is entered. The record which has led to the issue of the war was written by the Democratic party. Upon that record we shall stand. The party which the Republican leaders have chosen to play has been merely to criticize our methods, belittle our achievements, investigate our victories and rob America and the world of their fruits. Let them also stand upon the record. They laid at our door America's alleged unpreparedness."

Palmer Speaks.
Mr. Palmer declared that if the opposition stood upon its record, the platform would be composed of planks promising to "undo all that the Democratic party has done."

"On such a platform," he continued, "the Republican party will carry almost as many states as it did in 1912. We stand not only upon our record of preparation and achievement in the war but we stand upon the record of Senator Hitchcock, first of the favorite sons to speak declared the Republican party would not attempt to repeal Democratic laws.

When he declared that "if the Republicans throw this treaty in the next campaign we are ready to take it up the gauntlet," the diners shouted approval.

"If the test comes in this campaign on that issue," he said, "we shall win. We shall win because the business men, the laboring men, the churches, the independent voters and above all, the women of America are for the league and for peace."

"This great document is acceptable to every other nation. It is acceptable to the people of the United States, but unfortunately in the senate it has found obstacles. I hope they will be overcome. In any event, however, the Democrats are on solid ground. They have worked earnestly for ratification, first without conditions and finally, with reasonable reservations."

Declaring the women voters eventually would give the Democratic party credit for securing woman suffrage, Mrs. Peter Olsen of Colquitt, Minn., associate member of the Democratic National Committee from the state said suffrage workers had asked the Republicans for the ballot ever since the Civil War but could not get it until the Democrats came into power. She said that as the home has been blessed, "by the ideals of women, the world is now to feel their influence politically."

"It is safe to conjecture that the liberal parties of all nations will find favor with these newly enfranchised citizens," she said. "During the war period, the women of America will never forget that this Democratic administration true to its high ideals threw around the army camps every precaution for clean living for the soldier and they will never forget that intoxicating drinks were banished from American warships."

Gov. Cornwell Also Speaks.
Governor Cornwell of West Virginia brought a laugh by remarking:

"I have no desire in the regrettable absence of our president to sound a keynote or seize a party organization and I hope this will relieve some of the other Democrats here."

The governor said he was satisfied that "passage of the Adamson eight hour law was an unfortunate event." The diners gave him a tremendous ovation.

American institutions are not in danger of being overthrown by the wielders of the bomb and torch, he continued, but they are in danger of destruction by disposition of governmental chiefs to yield to scenes of socialization which are proven failures, and by the unchecked growth of labor autocracy. The governor warned that if the Democratic party did not stand out in the struggle for the preservation of our government it will not only fail in its duty to its members, but it will fail at the polls, just as it ought.

When Chairman Cummings introduced Governor Cox of Ohio, a favorite son cheering broke out. Charging that Republican leaders cohabited notoriously with every disloyal group, in the congressional campaign of 1918, he said that the result was not a Democratic defeat as "no political party which denies intercourse with treason suffers a reverse in so doing."

"When the present congress assembled, he added they sought to make the great war and particularly our government's conduct of our part of it, an unworthy affair."

"It is fitting," he said, "that the country be reminded that a single constructive thing has been done and that the extravagance and corruption so flippantly alleged have not been found."

PROGRESS MADE BY RULES COMMITTEE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 8.—Altho considerable progress was made today toward drafting the rules which will govern the procedure of the Illinois constitutional convention, Chairman Charles E. Woodward of Ottawa, Ill., said tonight the committee would require at least another day to complete its work. The number of committees, the work which should be assigned to each and other topics relating to procedure of the convention were discussed today without any final decision being reached Mr. Woodward said.

HERRMANN RESIGNS FROM CHAIRMANSHIP

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 8.—August Herrmann, for more than sixteen years chairman of the National baseball commission, has resigned. Heydler, president of the National league, who with Herrmann, compose the commission.

APPROPRIATION BILL LARGEST IN HISTORY

Washington, Jan. 9.—The largest postoffice appropriation bill on record, aggregating $461,728,368 for the next fiscal year, was reported to the house today by the postoffice committee. Increases in expenses and in business, necessitating additional personnel, were given as the reasons for an increase of $25,000,000 over this year's appropriation.

REDUCE LIST OF WAR CRIMINALS

London, Jan. 8.—The list of war criminals to be demanded by the allies for trial has been considerably revised and reduced from the originally proposed 1,200 to about 300, the Daily Mail says.

"It was thought better," the newspaper adds, "to demand a few against whom specific serious charges have been lodged than a long list. The German prince and Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria remain in the list."

except as it does impair the importance of congress?

"We owe it to the world to join in an honest effort to put an end to war forever."

Constructive Program.

"A Democratic party cannot be a party of negation; it must have a constructive program. It must not only favor a league of nations, but it must have a plan for the election of delegates and a policy to be pursued by those delegates. What plan can a Democratic party have other than one that contemplates popular election of those delegates. And what policy can the Democratic party have within the league of nations other than one of absolute independence and impartiality between members of the league? Our nation's voice should at all times be raised in behalf of equal and exact justice between nations as the only basis of permanent peace."

Touches Domestic Problems.

"We have domestic problems also and one objection to thrusting the treaty into the campaign is that it would divert attention from them. We need machinery to handle the domestic problems. We need a consideration of the organization of new parties. Our party is the one party that can qualify for the meeting of these issues. It can oppose a class party because it is the party of the whole people. The Republican party has become a capitalistic party. It would divide the country into class parties and compel the formation of a farmer's party and a laborer's party."

"The Democratic party stands for the protection of the rights of every class. It has given the commercial class a splendid currency law; it has given the farmers a farm loan law; it has given labor an eight hour day and greater security and has given to all the people relief from the high tariff burdens. Democracy contemplates cooperation between all elements."

"It would prevent strikes by the creation of machinery which will investigate disputes and thus secure a peaceful settlement. The Democratic party will distinguish between evolution and revolution, guaranteeing freedom of speech and press to everyone who advocates governmental changes by constitutional methods, and, at the same time, prevent the use of either freedom of speech or freedom of the press for the overthrow of constitutional government."

Denounce Private Monopoly.

"The Democratic party has for twenty years denounced private monopoly. It cannot surrender its position now when beneficiaries of all the private monopolies are mobilizing under the banner of the Republican party for a united attack upon the right of the people to own and operate all necessary monopolies."

"The Democratic party will continue its fight against the every state and community that will give to the consumer a tribunal before which a dealer accused of profiteering can be brought. The federal trade commission is a step in the right direction."

"I assume that the party will accept Prohibition as the permanent policy of the country. Three-fourths of the Democrats in the senate and two-thirds of the Democrats in the house voted to submit the national amendment and every Democratic state voted for ratification—and every Republican state except three."

"I assume that the party will accept woman's suffrage also as an accepted fact. The women saved our party from defeat in the last campaign."

Cincinnati Man Discovers Drug That Loozes Corns so They Lift Out.

Local druggists are having a tremendous call for freezone, the drug which is said to shrivel a corn, root and all, without any pain.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness at once, and shortly the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out with the fingers.

This new drug is being dispensed at small cost in quarter ounce bottles, which is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn from one's feet. It is a sticky substance which dries at once and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue, or skin. There is no excuse for anyone suffering with infection or lockjaw from cutting their corns now.

FAVORITE LODGE IN ANNUAL ROLL CALL

Knights of Pythias Held Eleventh Annual Roll Call Thursday Evening—Fine Dinner Served Followed by Program—Over Two Hundred Present.

Favorite Lodge No. 376 Knights of Pythias held its eleventh annual roll call Thursday evening. Despite inclement weather over two hundred members were present and the event proved one of much pleasure. At 6 o'clock a fine chicken dinner was served. This was under the direction of Charles J. Rataichak and an able corps of assistants in the kitchen. Glenn Cannon with capable waiters had charge of the dining room. The dining room and lodge hall were prettily decorated with flowers and ferns.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the roll call was composed of Jewell E. Scott, chairman, C. B. Magill and Louis B. Turner. The committee did excellent work and the event was characterized by members as the best in the history of the lodge.

Following the dinner the roll call and program was carried out. Carl E. Robinson was chairman of the evening and the roll was called by Jewell E. Scott, while L. B. Turner read letters from out of town members. The roll call was interspersed with musical numbers, readings and some fancy dancing by Charles Hauser.

Absent Members Write.

One pleasing feature of the evening was the large number of responses from absent members. These came from all parts of the country and showed that even the absent, the thoughts of the members on this night were turned to old 376 and they were present in spirit if not in the flesh.

Miss Hopper of the School of Expression of Illinois Woman's College gave several pleasing readings which were greatly enjoyed. Miss Hopper appeared in place of Miss Constance McCammon, head of the Department of Expression of the college, who is suffering from a severe cold.

A quintet composed of C. B. Magill, Herbert C. Hopkins, Ben Denny, Maurice Peckham and James Guyette sang a number of selections. They received many compliments for the excellence of their work. Charles Hauser also favored with some fancy dancing. Mr. Hauser proved an adept and was given several encores.

Address by W. H. Moore.

The main address of the evening was given by William H. Moore, Grand Inner Guard of Peoria. Mr. Moore knows pythianism and his effort was a splendid one and well received by the members.

There were a number of members from Jacksonville present and also A. M. Nevius and J. W. Lytle of White Hall and N. Rousseau of Chicago.

Letters were read by Mr. Turner from Al Douglass, Chicago Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, M. P. Dunlap, Grand Master of Exchequer, grand lodge officers and from the following members:

Hy S. Alkire, Houston Texas; Louis Ahlquist, St. Louis, Mo.; Frank Bracewell, Chicago; Eugene L. Brown, Kansas City, Mo.; C. L. Carpenter, Paxton; John E. Freiburg, Springfield, Mo.; W. H. Henderson, Springfield, Mo.; L. S. Humphrey, Corning, Iowa; Fred Hoese, Roodhouse; J. W. Kettle, Columbus; George S. Lewis, Des Moines, Iowa; L. L. Owens, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; E. A. Rohlfman, Detroit, Mich.; Frank Shepherd, Cornwallis Oregon; James B. Swift, Chicago; Charles M. Strawn, Alexander; Percy Wilgus, Chicago.

Lodge is Prosperous.

Favorite Lodge has prospered during the year just past. There has not been a death in the membership which now numbers 344.

The lodge also is in a fine condition financially. On January 1, 1920, it had in assets $4,825 in bonds and mortgages. Benjie Lee Stice is the Chancellor Commander and the prosperity of the organization is largely due to his untiring efforts and the loyal support given him by the membership.

Harmony Lodge will hold a special meeting this evening at 6:30 o'clock. Work. Refreshments. Visiting brethren welcome.

AN INTERESTING CATALOGUE

The Journal's esteemed friend, Jack Robinson, has kindly loaned the office an interesting book or catalogue of Madame Tussaud's exhibition in London. This business is historic and of long standing. Its record of managers is:

Christopher Curtius, born, 1874, died, 1892.

Madame Tussaud, born, 1760, died, 1850.

Francis Tussaud, born, 1800, died, 1873.

Joseph R. Tussaud, born, 1831, died, 1892.

John T. Tussaud, present manager.

The exhibitions are wax works, portraits and museum curiosities and are arranged in halls and the catalogue contains brief mention, biographical and otherwise of each.

In the building there are some fifteen halls each devoted to some specialty. Figures of a vast number of world celebrities may be seen. Among them both ancient and modern figures. Eight presidents of the French Republic; many other great ones, Asquith, Rev. John Wesley, John Knox, Mrs. Pankhurst, several U. S. presidents, Marshal Foch, Gen. Joffre, Lloyd-George, John Wycliffe, Joan of Arc, Tennyson, Byron, Shakespeare and a host of others. Kings and queens from William, the Conqueror.

Many interesting articles are shown: an old bell from Newgate, cell door from same, model of bastille, coronation robes, and a host of interesting articles.

A chamber of horrors is well named; containing a model of the French guillotine and many other relics. A children's gallery has an automatic drum and other amusing articles.

GOOD ROADS!

The winter of 1919-20 will go down in history in this vicinity as a time noted for unusually good roads. Yesterday a gentleman who motored from Arenzville to the city once in a while would strike a smooth place causing a little danger from skidding but otherwise the highways were well kept. The present storm may have the effect of injuring the highways somewhat but otherwise they are truly fine.

C.M. STRAWN LEASES COURT ST. PROPERTY

Will Remodel Building Now Occupied by J. H. Cains' Sons Feed Store and Open Up-to-date Garage and Service Station.

Chas. M. Strawn, the widely known auctioneer and automobile distributor, announced Thursday that he has leased the big red brick building on West Court street, owned by Jos. DeGoveia, occupied for a number of years by the Cody Feed Store and more recently by a branch of J. H. Cains' Sons under the management of Harry Cain. The lease of the present tenant runs until March first, but they very courteously have signified their willingness to vacate as soon as they can arrange to take care of the stock at the Cain Mills on the Wabash tracks.

The building leased will give Mr. Strawn a main building 40x100 feet, and an addition of 40x40 feet at the rear, and having several alley entrances as well as the Court street entrances will be well adapted for the purposes intended. As soon as vacated by Messrs. Cain, the building will be entirely remodeled so as to give Mr. Strawn a thoroughly up-to-date garage and service station.

The deal has been a fortunate one all around as owing to increasing labor costs Messrs. Cain have considered that it would be a big saving to them to consolidate this store with their plant located on the Wabash tracks where many otherwise expensive transfers would be avoided. And Mr. Strawn had been looking for a suitable location for nearly a year and had about come to the conclusion he would have to build despite high costs of labor and materials.

As soon as the building is ready and equipped, Mr. Strawn intends to hold a real old fashioned house warming, of which more will be said later.

Don't let your car freeze up. I have a mixture of alcohol and glycerine at $1.50 a gallon. This is cheaper for the user than straight alcohol.

"Well, why should you be worried—you should be happy. I think they are just grand."

"I am happy but what worries me is where am I going to put them? I am so crowded—not a spare bed in the house."

"Listen, May. Go down to the People's Furniture Co. store, 209 South Sandy, and look at their wonderful Davenettes. They are good and can be bought on easy terms and they are so good with their deliveries—an experienced furniture man on their truck means it will be delivered in good order."

Essex Beauty Sets New Auto Standard

The First Demonstrator Received by

Amazed Local Motorists by its Wonderful Performance

Setting new standards of automobile beauty, economy and performance, the first Essex demonstrating car received was the center of interest for local automobile enthusiasts this week.

The car, a five passenger phaeton, is attractively finished in satin, dark green. It has the smart, square lines which have been so widely copied during the past year. In every detail of finish, from its deep luxurious upholstery to its slanting wind-shield, it is comparable only to the most costly cars on the market.

Possessing a flexibility and a seemingly unlimited reserve of power, the performance of this Essex is little short of miraculous. Tests have proved its ability to accelerate from a standing start to 20 miles an hour in 2 5-6 seconds and to 30 miles an hour in 5 2-3 seconds. No hill, however steep, can stop it and it rides over the roughest roads with the ease and comfort of a car of much greater weight.

Aside from its wonderful performance, one of the most distinguishing characteristics of the Essex is a notable simplicity of design. The engine is just a clean block of metal. Every excess part has been eliminated, making the task of the owner who cares for his own car a pleasure instead of a burden. The use of shutters on the radiators eliminates the necessity of covering the hood with unsightly bandages to retain the heat in the winter and permits of the utmost ease of starting even in the coldest weather.

Nothing but the very finest of materials and workmanship are used throughout the Essex. Its design incorporates the experience gained thru ten years of achievement in building fine cars. The proof of this is to be seen in its performance which has amazed the motoring world. It is built in the Hudson factory in Detroit and is backed by one of the strongest organizations to be found anywhere in the industry.

In 1919 its popularity was such that 20,000 Essex were built and sold and the demand in all parts of the country today is greater than ever. Although the factory capacity has been greatly increased, the number we have been able to obtain is strictly limited and is far below what we needed to satisfy our customers.

J. C. SAILOR TALKS OF FARMERS ORGANIZATION

Assistant Secretary of Illinois Agricultural Association Tells Morgan County Farmers of Plans—Over 100 Farmers Present—Other Speakers Urge Necessity of Cooperation.

If farmers are to get justice in the law making of the country they must perfect an organization that will be so strong that they can demand their rights and get them. J. C. Sailor told one hundred Morgan county farmers at a luncheon at the Pacific Hotel Thursday.

The speaker is a farmer himself and assistant secretary of the Illinois Agricultural Association. He is engaged in the campaign for the organization of the farm bureau and the state organization. Mr. Sailor said a high compliment to Morgan county farmers by saying that the gathering yesterday was on a par with the meeting in Knox county which was the best he had attended up to this time. Morgan county was the thirty-fifth he had visited.

That farmers are deeply interested in, and realize the necessity of organization was shown by the gathering yesterday. Ten, or even five years ago such a gathering at this time would have been impossible because of road conditions. That great progress has been made in the betterment of roads was shown by the gathering which represented every part of the county.

In addition to Mr. Sailor, remarks were made by G. B. Kendall, county farm advisor, Mayor Crabtree, A. L. French, A. C. Rice and F. J. Heintz. All of the speakers emphasized the value of organization and unity of purpose. The manner in which the remarks of the various speakers were received makes the success of the coming drive assured.

W. Barr Brown, Chairman. Promptly at 12 o'clock the company took their places at the table and partook of an excellent luncheon. At its close, Charles S. Black, president of the Morgan County Farmers' Club introduced W. Barr Brown as chairman of the proposed drive for membership.

Mr. Brown before introducing the speaker of the afternoon told something of his hopes in the coming drive. He emphasized the necessity of having the support of every man present if the drive was to be a success. He said that nothing short of a 100 per cent organization would satisfy him. He then introduced J. C. Sailor, assistant secretary of the Illinois Agricultural Association, who, he said, would tell something of the plan of organization and what it was hoped to accomplish.

Compliments Local Farmers. After expressing his pleasure at being able to be present, Mr. Sailor complimented the farmers for such a large gathering which he said indicated that the men who operated the farms were taking a vital interest in things which would enable them to better their conditions. The speaker said that he felt like he was coming home to come to this county which was essentially a farming county and he was himself a farmer.

He prefaced his remarks by paying a compliment to A. C. Rice who was one of the pioneers in the Farmers Cooperative Elevator movement.

"Prior to 1919," said Mr. Sailor, "the farmers did not have an active farmers organization. They did not have money with which to work. In January, 1919, thirteen men were selected from thirteen congressional districts to formulate plans for organization. These men were not politicians, but practical farmers, the men who work on the farms."

The object of the organization is to help the man whose only asset was his good right arm. What is hoped for is to make better conditions for the farmers. These conditions would mean better roads, better schools and other things to make farm life attractive for the boys and girls on the farm and place them on an equal as to opportunities with their city cousins.

The National Federal Farm Bureau has given great assistance in the work we are now carrying on. It started the work right by beginning on the farm with the farmers in the organization of the farm bureau. It was thru this organization that the farmers got a hearing in Washington with the president. Prior to that time there were men campaigning on the National Capitol who did not represent the farmers, but their own selfish interests.

Tells of Accomplishments. "I am proud of the record of the state organization as its membership fees have enabled us to send men to Washington who will get justice for the farmers. Among some of the things accomplished by the farmers organizations are the fixing of the price of wheat and the repeal of the daylight saving law. The daylight law was repealed after the president had told them that he was in favor of it because of other industries."

The speaker also told of his experience with two car loads of hogs at the Chicago market recently when he saved himself $11.50 by taking issue with an inspector on a hog which the inspector had classed as a stag.

Among things that it is proposed to accomplish by the organizations of farmers is the acquiring of limestone deposits and the building of a plant for grinding. In this connection he told of a hunt to find what had become of an appropriation of $125,000 made by the state for building a grinding plant. It was found that nothing had been done, but when the committee got busy they soon had the blue prints and showed a willingness to do something.

"The object of the present drive," Mr. Sailor said was to organize and get money so that results could be secured of benefit to the farmer. Next week is the meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association in Peoria and as many should go as possible from Morgan county.

Getting down to the local problem, Mr. Sailor said that no farmer should be passive. Every man should get behind the movement and be ready to help when the chairman Mr. Brown called upon him. You should do your part and when the executive officers are selected you cannot object because you will have the choosing of them.

Success in Organization. "Most farmers now know the secret of success is organization," said the speaker. "It is time to check the radicalism that is running thruout the country. It is up to every farmer in the country to uphold old glory and to put down the red flag of anarchy. Farmers must do this for they represent both capital and labor."

Mr. Sailor then complimented the farmers upon the selection of their chairman. He said that he believed Mr. Brown was a man in whom everyone had the utmost confidence. Everything should be done to help him. If you give him your support you need not fear the results of the campaign. When he calls upon you for help don't make excuses, but give him the best you have.

In closing, Mr. Sailor told of the results of the campaign in the thirty-four counties thus far organized. These counties now have a membership of 45,800.

Kendall Tells of Plans. Mr. Brown then called upon George B. Kendall who explained the method of campaign and told of the advertising that is to be done in connection with it. Mr. Kendall compared the coming drive with a good football team. He said that in football the success depended upon teamwork. He urged that the men present get together and do teamwork with the chairman.

Charles S. Black, president of the Morgan County Farmers' Club urged earnest support for Mr. Brown in the coming drive. Mr. Black also told something of the local organization and how it was placed on a sound financial basis.

The Spirit of Service. The chairman then called upon Mayor Crabtree who spoke briefly. In the beginning the mayor said he could not qualify under the definition of a farmer as given by Mr. Sailor for he was only a farmer by proxy. Not that he could be qualified as a fourth rate politician for he did not reach that standard in politics.

However, the speaker said he had been a member of the Morgan County Farm Bureau since its organization and had always taken a deep interest in the farmer's problems. He also told of the value of organization and unity of purpose, judged from his experience the last few years.

Mr. Crabtree also expressed the belief that an organization such as contemplated could not help but prove of great benefit to the members. He also emphasized the thought that the greatest profit was gained by helping others. The speaker said that in a community so largely dependent upon the farming interests that anything that benefited the farmer would also benefit the entire community.

Some Conditions Farmers Own Fault. Arthur L. French who has always taken a great interest in farming was called upon by the chairman. Mr. French said he had not expected to be asked to talk or he would have gotten away.

The speaker said he would not presume to tell farmers who did the actual work on the farm—anything about their business—as he had only taken an interest in cows in recent years.

However, there was one thing he told his hearers and that was that it was their own fault that many things were not more pleasant on the farm.

"I was raised on a farm," said Mr. French and I know of the hard work that my mother had to do. There are so many things you could do to make life easier for your wife and daughter that you leave undone. I don't say that you don't love your wives as other men do, but that it prob-

GUY L. SHAW.

Candidate for Republican Nomination for Congress.

Elsewhere in this issue appears the authorized announcement of Guy L. Shaw of Beardstown as Republican candidate for member of congress in the lower house, for the 20th district of Illinois.

This congressional district is quite largely agricultural, and the farmers of this district feel they want one who is interested in their problems to represent them in congress; and because of Mr. Shaw's wide acquaintance with the conditions which confront the agricultural interests of the district, he has been urged by the farmers to become a candidate. Mr. Shaw was born and reared on a farm in this district. His training and education was general, but largely along agricultural lines. He has been engaged in farming all of his life, except during the time spent attending the college of agriculture of the University of Illinois. For the past ten or twelve years Mr. Shaw has been engaged in farming and the management of farms on a large scale, which has given him a very wide experience in all of the phases of agriculture.

Mr. Shaw stands for constructive work along business and agricultural lines. While he feels that it would be an honor to represent this district in the lower house of congress, he is not seeking the office for mere glory or gain, but to do actual service for this district.

Few men are interested in the problems of farming and the general welfare of the people of this district as is Mr. Shaw. He is well qualified for the office which he seeks, and if elected, will devote his best efforts to making laws that will best meet the needs of the common people of this district.

SANDERSON SAYS

Peoria Man Gains More Than Twenty Five Pounds Taking Tanlac.

"I have gained over twenty five pounds since I commenced taking Tanlac, and troubles that have been causing me to suffer for twelve long years have been completely overcome," said James C. Sanderson, who lives at 110 South John Street, Springfield, Ill., while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"Yes, sir, Tanlac fixed me up all right," continued Mr. Sanderson, "and I'll tell the world that it is the best medicine on earth to build a man up when he is all run down like I was. There wasn't a time during all the twelve years that I could sit down and eat a meal without suffering afterwards. Why, I would be so bloated up with gas at times I could hardly breathe, and would have the worst sort of cramping pains in the pit of my stomach. I had actually gotten to the point where a little soup was about the only thing I could eat, and I got so weak and run down that I couldn't work at all and just had to lay off from the job altogether. I was very much discouraged over my condition and I knew that unless I soon got hold of a medicine or treatment that would help me, I would not live much longer.

"Now that was the condition I was in when I commenced taking Tanlac. Before I had finished my first bottle I knew that I had found the right medicine at last. My appetite came back, and I noticed that what I ate agreed with me. I began to sleep better and instead of feeling tired and worn out in the mornings, I felt rested and refreshed. Well, sir, I just stuck to Tanlac until I have now taken five bottles, and now I am as hale and hearty as any man in this country. All my troubles have been completely overcome and I can do as much hard work as I ever did in my life. I never would have believed that a medicine would bring a man out like Tanlac has me, and you can just put me down as a booster for this wonderful medicine as long as I live.

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve; in Mercedosia by Mr. R. B. Field; in Murrayville by M. E. Gilbert; in Waverly by Wyle Drug Co.; in Woodstock by The Hoy Pharmacy; in Chapin by John Onken & Bros., and in Alexander by Frank J. Kaiser.—Adv.

(Continued from Page Seven.) men who helped organize the Farmers' Elevator Companies. He told of the hard work and the small beginning. Now Mr. Rice said, there were farmers elevators not only in this state but in adjoining states. Mr. Rice told of a saving of a million and a half dollars to the farmers which came thru a protest against an increase in freight rates. This was made possible Mr. Rice said thru the organization of farmers elevators.

F. J. Heintz Talks of Good Roads. Mr. Brown introduced Frank J. Heintz as the man who had been a pioneer in the good roads movement in Morgan county. However, Mr. Heintz first told the company something of his work with Sid Smith in the organization of the first farmers club in Morgan county.

Mr. Heintz also told something of the needs in price regulation. In his opinion the law of supply and demand and distribution were three vital things to be worked out thru farmers organizations.

Speaking of the good roads movement, Mr. Heintz said that while he was in favor of oiled roads he had always been a consistent advocate of hard roads and believed they were the cheapest in the long run. Another thing Mr. Heintz told his hearers was that they would best wake up as to taxation or they would feel the result of the neglect within a short time.

In closing, Mr. Heintz said that organization by farmers was imperative. Prices are going to drop, he said, and when they do the farmer should be in a position to protect himself. The meeting then came to a close. Mr. Brown thanked the farmers for their attendance and asked them to get some of the posters as they left the room. Every man present took some and agreed to put them up. The meeting was undoubtedly one of the best ever held in the county and as Mr. Sailor said was on a par with the Knox county meeting as to number and enthusiasm.

Home Made Bread —

Foundation for the Future

Crisp, snow-white, brown-crusted slices of home-made bread! The very foundation of a good, wholesome meal.

Such bread has been found in America since the very day of its birth. It builds brain and brawn and bone as no other food can do.

The pioneer mother relied on it, and witness the men she produced—the strong, clear-thinking manhood that made this country great.

The need for such baking continues, for we are pioneers, too. We must build for the future as they did, and build as strong.

The strength of tomorrow is now in the making—we must give the kiddies their due—and the kiddies need mother's baking to help their bodies grow.

Valier's Enterprise Flour will give you the means of baking the best bread ever made.

It is milled by a special process from the finest hard wheat grown. None but the best is considered, and we pay an unusually high premium for every bushel we use.

Add to this exceptional wheat, rich in gluten, the fineness secured by repeated sifting through silk, and the result is a flour unequalled in the field of good baking.

Of course, such high quality flour costs slightly more in the sack, but it really costs less on the table. There are no failures to count as waste.

CHAPIN CLUBS HELD REGULAR SESSIONS

Household Science And Woman's Clubs in Interesting Programs —L. O. O. F. Lodge Gives Oyster Supper—News Notes.

Chapin, Jan. 8.—The Chapin Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Ernest Neuhouser on Tuesday afternoon, January 6, with fifteen members and three guests present. The meeting was opened with a piano solo by Miss Margaret Eagan. The roll was then called and answered to with a New Year hope. Each member then gave some quotations, and its author. Instead of a paper, each one was asked to bring some favorite poem, which made an interesting program. Mrs. Callaway then sang a solo which she first sang forty years ago. Owing to the president being absent for the first part of the program, the minutes were then read, followed by the paying of dues. The business session followed. A social hour followed which time the hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be held Jan. 27, with Mr. Fred Craven.

The Household Science Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Howard Tucker on Wednesday afternoon, January 7, with fifteen members and six guests. The meeting was opened with the club song "Illinois." The roll call was then responded to with a New Year Hope and Plan.

The minutes were read and the secretary's report presented. During the business session which followed, a motion was carried to write a letter and send flowers to Mrs. Frank Smith, who is a patient at the Passavant Hospital.
